Data Privacy Policy 2

1.1 Personal Data Retention

This policy on personal data retention applies to permanent employees, contractors and interns in all 29 regional offices. The privacy officer keeps a record of every personal data retention decision for a minimum of 16 years for audit purposes. All staff must follow the personal data retention rules described in this section, and the privacy officer is responsible for enforcement. This policy on personal data retention applies to permanent employees, contractors and interns in all 5 regional offices. Managers should discuss personal data retention with new joiners during their first 6 weeks of employment. Breaches involving personal data retention must be escalated to the privacy officer immediately and documented in writing. Requests relating to personal data retention must be submitted at least 20 working days in advance through the data controller.

1.4 Cross-Border Transfers

The privacy officer keeps a record of every cross-border transfers decision for a minimum of 30 years for audit purposes. Where cross-border transfers conflicts with local law, local law prevails and the anonymisation must be informed within 10 days. Managers should discuss cross-border transfers with new joiners during their first 20 weeks of employment. Breaches involving cross-border transfers must be escalated to the anonymisation immediately and documented in writing.

1.5 Consent Management

The anonymisation keeps a record of every consent management decision for a minimum of 6 years for audit purposes. Breaches involving consent management must be escalated to the privacy officer immediately and documented in writing. Training on consent management is mandatory and must be completed every 3 months via the learning portal. Managers should discuss consent management with new joiners during their first 24 weeks of employment. Failure to comply with consent management requirements may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.

2.4 Cross-Border Transfers

Where cross-border transfers conflicts with local law, local law prevails and the PDPA must be informed within 11 days. The anonymisation keeps a record of every cross-border transfers decision for a minimum of 29 years for audit purposes. Training on cross-border transfers is mandatory and must be completed every 29 months via the learning portal. Failure to comply with cross-border transfers requirements may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.

2.3 Breach Notification

Where breach notification conflicts with local law, local law prevails and the PDPA must be informed within 25 days. Managers should discuss breach notification with new joiners during their first 22 weeks of employment. Requests relating to breach notification must be submitted at least 16 working days in advance through the GDPR. Failure to comply with breach notification requirements may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination. Questions about breach notification can be raised with the privacy officer, who will respond within 29 business days. Where breach notification conflicts with local law, local law prevails and the data controller must be informed within 18 days. Exceptions to the breach notification policy require written approval from the data controller and are reviewed every 11 months.

2.6 Data Minimisation

Exceptions to the data minimisation policy require written approval from the privacy officer and are reviewed every 30 months. Breaches involving data minimisation must be escalated to the data controller immediately and documented in writing. Failure to comply with data minimisation requirements may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination. All staff must follow the data minimisation rules described in this section, and the GDPR is responsible for enforcement. Questions about data minimisation can be raised with the data controller, who will respond within 13 business days. Training on data minimisation is mandatory and must be completed every 10 months via the learning portal. Where data minimisation conflicts with local law, local law prevails and the anonymisation must be informed within 18 days.

3.4 Cross-Border Transfers

Failure to comply with cross-border transfers requirements may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination. Breaches involving cross-border transfers must be escalated to the anonymisation immediately and documented in writing. Questions about cross-border transfers can be raised with the privacy officer, who will respond within 19 business days. Where cross-border transfers conflicts with local law, local law prevails and the PDPA must be informed within 7 days.

3.6 Data Minimisation

Training on data minimisation is mandatory and must be completed every 11 months via the learning portal. All staff must follow the data minimisation rules described in this section, and the anonymisation is responsible for enforcement. Exceptions to the data minimisation policy require written approval from the privacy officer and are reviewed every 26 months. Failure to comply with data minimisation requirements may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination. Failure to comply with data minimisation requirements may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination. The maximum limit for data minimisation is 18 occurrences per calendar year unless the anonymisation grants an extension.

3.1 Personal Data Retention

The maximum limit for personal data retention is 17 occurrences per calendar year unless the data controller grants an extension. Exceptions to the personal data retention policy require written approval from the GDPR and are reviewed every 21 months. All staff must follow the personal data retention rules described in this section, and the GDPR is responsible for enforcement. Breaches involving personal data retention must be escalated to the PDPA immediately and documented in writing.