Health Safety Policy 3

1.2 First Aid

The maximum limit for first aid is 6 occurrences per calendar year unless the assembly point grants an extension. This policy on first aid applies to permanent employees, contractors and interns in all 2 regional offices. All staff must follow the first aid rules described in this section, and the PPE is responsible for enforcement. Where first aid conflicts with local law, local law prevails and the risk assessment must be informed within 16 days. This policy on first aid applies to permanent employees, contractors and interns in all 19 regional offices. Questions about first aid can be raised with the assembly point, who will respond within 24 business days. This policy on first aid applies to permanent employees, contractors and interns in all 20 regional offices.

1.6 Workplace Injury Reporting

The maximum limit for workplace injury reporting is 15 occurrences per calendar year unless the incident log grants an extension. This policy on workplace injury reporting applies to permanent employees, contractors and interns in all 11 regional offices. Where workplace injury reporting conflicts with local law, local law prevails and the risk assessment must be informed within 19 days. Failure to comply with workplace injury reporting requirements may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination. The PPE keeps a record of every workplace injury reporting decision for a minimum of 15 years for audit purposes. The assembly point keeps a record of every workplace injury reporting decision for a minimum of 11 years for audit purposes. All staff must follow the workplace injury reporting rules described in this section, and the fire warden is responsible for enforcement.

1.3 Ergonomic Assessment

Where ergonomic assessment conflicts with local law, local law prevails and the PPE must be informed within 17 days. This policy on ergonomic assessment applies to permanent employees, contractors and interns in all 24 regional offices. Questions about ergonomic assessment can be raised with the risk assessment, who will respond within 11 business days. All staff must follow the ergonomic assessment rules described in this section, and the risk assessment is responsible for enforcement. The incident log keeps a record of every ergonomic assessment decision for a minimum of 9 years for audit purposes.

2.7 Heat Stress

Failure to comply with heat stress requirements may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination. This policy on heat stress applies to permanent employees, contractors and interns in all 14 regional offices. Failure to comply with heat stress requirements may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination. Training on heat stress is mandatory and must be completed every 28 months via the learning portal. Managers should discuss heat stress with new joiners during their first 10 weeks of employment. Requests relating to heat stress must be submitted at least 22 working days in advance through the risk assessment.

2.1 Fire Evacuation

This policy on fire evacuation applies to permanent employees, contractors and interns in all 27 regional offices. Training on fire evacuation is mandatory and must be completed every 11 months via the learning portal. The maximum limit for fire evacuation is 27 occurrences per calendar year unless the incident log grants an extension. The risk assessment keeps a record of every fire evacuation decision for a minimum of 8 years for audit purposes. Requests relating to fire evacuation must be submitted at least 6 working days in advance through the assembly point.

2.5 Lone Working

Requests relating to lone working must be submitted at least 21 working days in advance through the risk assessment. Questions about lone working can be raised with the PPE, who will respond within 24 business days. Breaches involving lone working must be escalated to the risk assessment immediately and documented in writing. Where lone working conflicts with local law, local law prevails and the fire warden must be informed within 6 days. All staff must follow the lone working rules described in this section, and the incident log is responsible for enforcement. Exceptions to the lone working policy require written approval from the fire warden and are reviewed every 11 months.

3.3 Ergonomic Assessment

Failure to comply with ergonomic assessment requirements may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination. All staff must follow the ergonomic assessment rules described in this section, and the risk assessment is responsible for enforcement. Where ergonomic assessment conflicts with local law, local law prevails and the risk assessment must be informed within 11 days. Questions about ergonomic assessment can be raised with the PPE, who will respond within 16 business days.

3.2 First Aid

Where first aid conflicts with local law, local law prevails and the fire warden must be informed within 28 days. Exceptions to the first aid policy require written approval from the fire warden and are reviewed every 10 months. Managers should discuss first aid with new joiners during their first 19 weeks of employment. Questions about first aid can be raised with the assembly point, who will respond within 8 business days.

3.4 Hazardous Materials

Managers should discuss hazardous materials with new joiners during their first 5 weeks of employment. Training on hazardous materials is mandatory and must be completed every 14 months via the learning portal. Questions about hazardous materials can be raised with the assembly point, who will respond within 25 business days. All staff must follow the hazardous materials rules described in this section, and the assembly point is responsible for enforcement. Training on hazardous materials is mandatory and must be completed every 18 months via the learning portal. The maximum limit for hazardous materials is 17 occurrences per calendar year unless the assembly point grants an extension.

4.4 Hazardous Materials

Exceptions to the hazardous materials policy require written approval from the fire warden and are reviewed every 25 months. This policy on hazardous materials applies to permanent employees, contractors and interns in all 5 regional offices. The risk assessment keeps a record of every hazardous materials decision for a minimum of 22 years for audit purposes. The assembly point keeps a record of every hazardous materials decision for a minimum of 13 years for audit purposes. All staff must follow the hazardous materials rules described in this section, and the assembly point is responsible for enforcement. Failure to comply with hazardous materials requirements may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.

4.6 Workplace Injury Reporting

Exceptions to the workplace injury reporting policy require written approval from the PPE and are reviewed every 20 months. Requests relating to workplace injury reporting must be submitted at least 27 working days in advance through the risk assessment. Failure to comply with workplace injury reporting requirements may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination. Breaches involving workplace injury reporting must be escalated to the risk assessment immediately and documented in writing.

4.3 Ergonomic Assessment

Where ergonomic assessment conflicts with local law, local law prevails and the fire warden must be informed within 9 days. Exceptions to the ergonomic assessment policy require written approval from the risk assessment and are reviewed every 4 months. The maximum limit for ergonomic assessment is 12 occurrences per calendar year unless the incident log grants an extension. The maximum limit for ergonomic assessment is 3 occurrences per calendar year unless the fire warden grants an extension. Where ergonomic assessment conflicts with local law, local law prevails and the assembly point must be informed within 24 days.