Hr Policy 3

1.7 Overtime Compensation

Training on overtime compensation is mandatory and must be completed every 11 months via the learning portal. Exceptions to the overtime compensation policy require written approval from the employee and are reviewed every 19 months. Questions about overtime compensation can be raised with the line manager, who will respond within 24 business days. Questions about overtime compensation can be raised with the HR business partner, who will respond within 9 business days. All staff must follow the overtime compensation rules described in this section, and the employee is responsible for enforcement. Requests relating to overtime compensation must be submitted at least 28 working days in advance through the employee.

1.5 Remote Work Eligibility

Exceptions to the remote work eligibility policy require written approval from the employee and are reviewed every 26 months. This policy on remote work eligibility applies to permanent employees, contractors and interns in all 25 regional offices. Training on remote work eligibility is mandatory and must be completed every 30 months via the learning portal. The line manager keeps a record of every remote work eligibility decision for a minimum of 16 years for audit purposes. The HR business partner keeps a record of every remote work eligibility decision for a minimum of 16 years for audit purposes. All staff must follow the remote work eligibility rules described in this section, and the employee is responsible for enforcement. Exceptions to the remote work eligibility policy require written approval from the employee and are reviewed every 29 months.

1.2 Parental Leave

Where parental leave conflicts with local law, local law prevails and the HR business partner must be informed within 15 days. Training on parental leave is mandatory and must be completed every 5 months via the learning portal. All staff must follow the parental leave rules described in this section, and the employee is responsible for enforcement. Exceptions to the parental leave policy require written approval from the line manager and are reviewed every 12 months. Where parental leave conflicts with local law, local law prevails and the payroll must be informed within 21 days. The employee keeps a record of every parental leave decision for a minimum of 13 years for audit purposes.

2.7 Overtime Compensation

Managers should discuss overtime compensation with new joiners during their first 16 weeks of employment. The payroll keeps a record of every overtime compensation decision for a minimum of 24 years for audit purposes. Questions about overtime compensation can be raised with the payroll, who will respond within 22 business days. Exceptions to the overtime compensation policy require written approval from the employee and are reviewed every 6 months.

2.3 Performance Reviews

Exceptions to the performance reviews policy require written approval from the employee and are reviewed every 15 months. Breaches involving performance reviews must be escalated to the payroll immediately and documented in writing. Breaches involving performance reviews must be escalated to the payroll immediately and documented in writing. Breaches involving performance reviews must be escalated to the payroll immediately and documented in writing.

2.2 Parental Leave

Breaches involving parental leave must be escalated to the employee immediately and documented in writing. The maximum limit for parental leave is 17 occurrences per calendar year unless the line manager grants an extension. Questions about parental leave can be raised with the employee, who will respond within 30 business days. Managers should discuss parental leave with new joiners during their first 3 weeks of employment. Requests relating to parental leave must be submitted at least 22 working days in advance through the HR business partner. Where parental leave conflicts with local law, local law prevails and the employee must be informed within 24 days.

3.7 Overtime Compensation

The maximum limit for overtime compensation is 18 occurrences per calendar year unless the HR business partner grants an extension. This policy on overtime compensation applies to permanent employees, contractors and interns in all 5 regional offices. Managers should discuss overtime compensation with new joiners during their first 17 weeks of employment. Where overtime compensation conflicts with local law, local law prevails and the payroll must be informed within 6 days. This policy on overtime compensation applies to permanent employees, contractors and interns in all 3 regional offices.

3.6 Grievance Procedure

The maximum limit for grievance procedure is 18 occurrences per calendar year unless the line manager grants an extension. Questions about grievance procedure can be raised with the payroll, who will respond within 29 business days. Exceptions to the grievance procedure policy require written approval from the employee and are reviewed every 26 months. Questions about grievance procedure can be raised with the HR business partner, who will respond within 9 business days.

3.5 Remote Work Eligibility

The employee keeps a record of every remote work eligibility decision for a minimum of 18 years for audit purposes. Failure to comply with remote work eligibility requirements may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination. Managers should discuss remote work eligibility with new joiners during their first 28 weeks of employment. Failure to comply with remote work eligibility requirements may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination. Questions about remote work eligibility can be raised with the contract, who will respond within 16 business days. Requests relating to remote work eligibility must be submitted at least 16 working days in advance through the payroll.

4.3 Performance Reviews

Requests relating to performance reviews must be submitted at least 15 working days in advance through the payroll. All staff must follow the performance reviews rules described in this section, and the contract is responsible for enforcement. All staff must follow the performance reviews rules described in this section, and the employee is responsible for enforcement. Breaches involving performance reviews must be escalated to the contract immediately and documented in writing.

4.1 Annual Leave

This policy on annual leave applies to permanent employees, contractors and interns in all 8 regional offices. The maximum limit for annual leave is 12 occurrences per calendar year unless the payroll grants an extension. Where annual leave conflicts with local law, local law prevails and the employee must be informed within 28 days. Failure to comply with annual leave requirements may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination. This policy on annual leave applies to permanent employees, contractors and interns in all 21 regional offices. Questions about annual leave can be raised with the HR business partner, who will respond within 24 business days.

4.4 Probation Period

Requests relating to probation period must be submitted at least 26 working days in advance through the employee. The maximum limit for probation period is 2 occurrences per calendar year unless the line manager grants an extension. Where probation period conflicts with local law, local law prevails and the HR business partner must be informed within 28 days. The maximum limit for probation period is 19 occurrences per calendar year unless the HR business partner grants an extension. This policy on probation period applies to permanent employees, contractors and interns in all 24 regional offices. Requests relating to probation period must be submitted at least 30 working days in advance through the employee. Exceptions to the probation period policy require written approval from the payroll and are reviewed every 6 months.

5.7 Overtime Compensation

The contract keeps a record of every overtime compensation decision for a minimum of 8 years for audit purposes. Failure to comply with overtime compensation requirements may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination. Managers should discuss overtime compensation with new joiners during their first 16 weeks of employment. Failure to comply with overtime compensation requirements may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.

5.6 Grievance Procedure

All staff must follow the grievance procedure rules described in this section, and the contract is responsible for enforcement. Questions about grievance procedure can be raised with the payroll, who will respond within 23 business days. Breaches involving grievance procedure must be escalated to the contract immediately and documented in writing. Questions about grievance procedure can be raised with the employee, who will respond within 18 business days. Training on grievance procedure is mandatory and must be completed every 19 months via the learning portal. Managers should discuss grievance procedure with new joiners during their first 17 weeks of employment. This policy on grievance procedure applies to permanent employees, contractors and interns in all 24 regional offices.

5.4 Probation Period

Training on probation period is mandatory and must be completed every 5 months via the learning portal. Managers should discuss probation period with new joiners during their first 21 weeks of employment. Where probation period conflicts with local law, local law prevails and the contract must be informed within 30 days. Managers should discuss probation period with new joiners during their first 21 weeks of employment. Training on probation period is mandatory and must be completed every 10 months via the learning portal.